THE SENTINEL.

Tuesday, November 13, 1866.

The Hon. B. F. Perry and the Constitutional Amendment.

The Hon. Benjamin F. Perry, of South Carolina, has given his views, in full, in regard to the Constitutional Amendment in a letter to Charles W. Woodward, Esq., of Philadelphia, which is published in the Columbia, (S. C.) Phœnix, and from which we make the annexed copious extracts, believing that we could present nothing more interesting to our readers, in the present disturbed state of affairs. The Hon. gentleman says:

MY DEAR SIR:—I had the pleasure of receiving your letter, a few days since, expressing a kind interest in the condition of the Southern States, and urging that South Carolina should adopt the constitutional amendment proposed by Congress. You also expressed a wish to know my views in reference to this all-absorbing political question.

It has been said that a man never can be dishonored, except by himself. Others may injure him and oppress him; they may slander him and destroy him, but they can no more dishonor him and render him infamous, than they can defame virtue and truth and honor.—The same may be said of a people or a nation. Whilst they pursue an honorable and patriotic course, they cannot be disgraced by the insults, wrongs and oppressions of a stronger power, however tyrannical and exacting that power may be.

The Southern States may be deprived of all political power in the Union, their property may be confiscated, and their most distinguished and virtuous citizens gibbetted on the gallows, but they cannot be rendered infamous in history by any such barbarous and inhuman conduct. Such a course will only dishonor and render infamous their oppressors.

You state that you greatly fear worse terms will be imposed on the South, if the amendment be not adopted. What security has the South that worse terms may not be imposed, if the amendment is adopted? We have no guarantee whatever that the Southern members will be admitted to their seats in Congress, after the amendment is adopted. Nothing of the kind is intimated; and, whilst the test oath is exacted, it would be impossible for the Southern States to be represented in Congress, except by those who would dishonor and disgrace them. We have no guarantee that Congress may not still hold the Southern States as conquered provinces, and appoint Provisional Governors over them, with instructions to convene "loyal" conventions, elected by universal negro suffrage, and have formed State Constitutions, by which all shall be entitled to vote and hold office, without regard to color, to the exclusion of every one who has aided or countenanced the "rebellion."

* * * * * * * * *

The proposed amendment of the Federal Constitution forces the Southern States to choose between giving up their equal representation in Congress, or permitting their negroes to vote. Between the alternatives, no Southern State could hesitate for a moment to choose when the issue is forced on them. Equal representation in the national councils must be given up. You very properly say that already the Southern States are in a minority in both houses of Congress, and a full representation for their negroes would not give them a majority the House of Representatives.

To suppose that any Southern State would voluntarily adopt such a provision in the National Constitution, is to presume that she is insensible to her own honor, and reckless of her own safety. It may be said that Tennessee has already done so; never was there a greater mistake. If the constitutional amendment had been submitted to the people of Tennessee, it would have been rejected by nine-tenths of them. It was adopted only by a minority of her Legislature, unfairly and corruptly elected, and thoroughly debased and degraded by Northern influence. In all communities, there are unprincipled and infamous men, who seek power and notoriety by sacrificing honor and the interests of their country. Unfortunately for Tennessee, the scum and dregs of society have been thrown up by the horrible civil war through which she has passed. Men have got into power into that State, accidentally and fraudulently, who are a disgrace to human nature, and who will ever remain infamous in history. The same thing cannot again occur in any other Southern State.

The third section of the proposed constitutional amendment is more revolting to an honorable mind than either of the others. It is, in the true sense of the word, a bill of attainder and ex post facto law, so repugnant to the sentiments and feelings of the framers of the Federal Constitution, that they declared no such law should ever be passed. It punishes for past offences, by one fell swoop, tens of thousands of honorable men. The conception of such a bill was never before,—probably, thought of by an Englishman, or the descendant of an Englishman. It certainly was not attempted by the English Parliament in the darkest days and bloodiest days of English tyranny. The only incident in history analagous to it is the wish of Nero, that all men had but one neck so that he could cut it off at one blow. It proposes to ostracise and disgrace forever, not only all the leading men of the South, but all, however humble they may be, who have filled any civil office in any of the Southern States. This section declares that no one who has taken the oath to support the Constitution of the United States and was afterwards aiding and abetting in the war, shall hereafter hold any office under the State or United States.—The Governors of the States, the Judges, members of the Legislature, magistrates, constables, State and District officers, are all, forever, excluded by this provision. To suppose that any Southern man would voluntarily adopt such a provision is indeed placing a very low estimate on Southern character. The soldier who gallantly fought under the lead of his general, and who would have sacrificed his own life, at any time, for the protection of his commander, is required to dishonor and disgrace him in peace. The son is required to vote the infamy of his father. The people are asked to repudiate and disgrace those whom they have, through life, honored, and gloried in honoring. Every Southern State is required to expel from her councils, her Legislature, and from all public offices, her wisest, best and most experienced public servants. Was ever such a proposition, before submitted to an intelligent, virtuous and Christian people? How any honorable man, who reflects on this section of the proposed amendment, and sees its bearing and consquences can expect or counsel its adoption is, to my mind, incomprehensible. That any Southern man should vote for it or favor its adoption is a confession of his own dishonor and infamy.—Such a man would willingly betray his country, his own household and his God.

If the Southern States were so lost to all shame as to adopt this section, it is possible that young men might be found to fill all the State offices; but they could not represent their State in Congress or hold any office under the United States, on account of their having aided and abetted in the war. The States would still be unrepresented in Congress as long as the test oath is continued.

* * * * * * * * *

But I feel assured that Congress did not expect or wish the ratification of this amendment by the States. The people were to be made to believe that Congress intended to reconstruct the Union. This was "a tub thrown out to the whale," to amuse them till the fall elections were over. Congress does not intend to have the States reconstructed till after the Presidential election in 1868. The Southern States are to be kept out of the Union till after that period, in order to insure the radical triumph.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, } Editors.
SEATON GALES. }

Tuesday Evening, Nov. 13, 1866.

THE LEGISLATURE meets in this City on Monday next, the 19th. inst.

The Public Schools.

One of the most serious embarrassments to the people of North Carolina growing out of the general losses of the State and the people by the war, is the loss of our Public or Common Schools. Thousands of our poor children who were making commendable progress in the more essential branches of education, were suddenly cut off from all participation in the benefits of the School fund, and the poverty of the people prevented even a temporary or partial effort to supply that loss by taxation.

In some sections, considerable complaint has been made against the last Legislature for its course upon this subject, and we presume an effort will be made at the approaching session to revive them. The urgent necessity for the education of the rising generation, impresses itself upon every one. No one who looks to the future welfare of our people can be indifferent to this subject; yet the proper and efficient conduct of a system of Public Schools, is not now what it formerly was, merely a matter for the people to will and it was done. The keeping up and sustaining at least 3000 schools even for three or six months in the year, is not an insignificant affair. It is a matter which requires money, and no small amount of money, to accomplish.

At the lowest calculation, there should be in the State an average of twenty public schools to each County. Many of the Counties contain from 40 to 60 school districts, but take twenty as the average which may be proposed to be revived the coming year: that would make 1780 public or common schools for the State, a number not half enough to supply the necessities of the poor white children of the State.—Suppose it were proposed that these 1780 schools should only be kept in operation for six months during the next year, the salaries of the teachers alone, at only a very reasonable compensation, in view of the price of living and the depreciation of money, cannot be put at a less sum than $300 each for the six months. This would require the large sum of $534,000. The greater portion of the School Fund of the State was invested in the stocks of the Bank of North Carolina, Bank of Cape Fear and works of internal improvement. These are almost entirely worthless. About one-eighth of the Fund is in State Bonds, the larger portion of which shared the fate of the State war debt. From all sources therefore, the School Fund may possibly receive in dividends and interest, from fifty to seventy-five thousand dollars the present year. Before the war, its whole total annual receipts from the Banks, Rail Roads, State debt &c. were about $180,000, the people in the Counties making up the deficit by taxation. Say that the income of the School Fund for the next year from all sources would reach $75,000, which we judge to be a large calculation, this would leave about $460,000 to be raised by taxation, to sustain even 1780 schools in the State for six months of the coming year.

Hence, it is manifest that the revival of the Public Schools in the State, even upon a meagre plan, would nearly double the present County and State taxes assessed in each County. We are not making these statements upon official data. They are based upon what we suppose to be about the actual state of the case, and we judge they are approximately correct. If they are near the truth, it affords the reader some of the reasons for the action of those in the last Legislature, who were unwilling to risk the attempt to revive the Schools under the supposed inability of the people to bear the requisite taxation.

But our people are so much interested in the revival of the Schools, so much so that many have become discouraged at the prospect before them, and are leaving the State, while others are contemplating and arranging for early removal, no determination of the approaching Legislature to overslaugh the question or to neglect it, will be quietly acquiesced in, unless a full and clear exhibit of the reasons influencing and justifying such action is laid before them. It is important therefore, that at an early day an able committee should be entrusted with the full investigation of the whole subject, in order that if anything can be done to effect the revival of the Schools, it should be done at an early day.

The whole system will require revision and thorough adjustment and improvement. The experience of the past, will furnish many important suggestions, and the progress of the systems of other States, and the vast amount of information collected by the late worthy Superintendent, will afford data for our future enterprise in this great work. Moreover, the changed condition of society and the demands which will be made upon the State, growing out of those changes, will require most careful investigation and a wise forecaste and caution, in whatever may be done, or attempted to be done.

N. C. CONFERENCE.—This body will probably close its session in Fayetteville, to-day. We have heard nothing of the proceedings. We regret this, as many of our readers will. We had the promise of daily letters from the Conference, but we have received nothing.

COLORED SUFFRAGE. The colored people of Indiana held a State convention last week. Resolutions were adopted denouncing President Johnson, and reproving Congress for hesitating to confer impartial suffrage on account of considerations of policy.

One hundred and twenty persons have been converted in the Methodist Episcopal Church at Alexandria, of which Rev. George W. Langhorne is pastor, within the past two months.

Gov. Bullock, of Massachusetts, has pardoned seven patriots who were convicted of a "riotous assault" on a man who had spoken highly of Mr. Lincoln.

Gov. Perry of South Carolina.

We ask the attentive reader of the Daily to the extracts from the manly letter of Gov. Perry, of South Carolina, on the first page of the outside to-day, in reply to a Philadelphia friend.

How does the noble course of Gov. Perry, contrast with that of the Holdens, the Hamiltons and the Brownlows? Gov. Perry was a devoted and consistent Union man before the war. When it ended, true to his conservative principles he was ready for reconciliation and restoration, and turned his thoughts, not to his own aggrandizement or the gratification of ambitious designs, but to the relief and amelioration of the condition of his suffering people.—Nor has he swerved an iota from the position and policy he adopted. True to his instincts of integrity and honor, he advises his people to discard any and every temptation or threat, which would disgrace them, and points out the shame which must attach to them if they sanction the Howard amendment.

The names of Perry and Sharkey will live in history and be embalmed in the memories of the sons of the South forever, while those of Holden, Jack Hamilton and Brownlow, will only be named to be scouted and denounced. Three-fourths of the people of North Carolina have always occupied the precise position of Gov. Perry. They stand with him now and ever, though their consistency and honorable bearing, may subject them to the severest ills.

Stay at Home.

The scarcity of the crops in various portions of this State, together with the poverty of many of our people, and the fears which have been excited by the declarations of the Radicals, we regret to see, are urging many good citizens, honest laboring men, to leave the State. We believe our people who take this course are in error. We are satisfied, that the day they leave North Carolina, unless their means are ample to go wherever they list, they take a bad step. We have positive information that none of our people who have left the State, except the Friends who have gone to join their friends in Indiana, are now satisfied in their new homes. Most that we have heard from, are arranging their matters to return to their native State.—Industry, frugality, temperance and honesty will secure a good living in North Carolina.—Every man, black and white, is protected in the enjoyment of life, liberty and property, as much here as any where in the Union. As to the political power of the South in the Government, it is gone. No man expects to recover it, and our people are becoming quite content to let National politics alone.

For the Sentinel.

The Speakership.

MESSRS. EDITORS: It is not my purpose to forestal in any wise the action of the House of Commons, or to prevent the concentration of the House upon any one it might select, but permit me to say, that after an examination of the list of members elect to the House, no name strikes me as more fit for that position than that of R. Y. MCADEN, Esq., of Alamance.—Though he has never been Speaker, yet he has often presided in the House with dignity and promptness, showing an acquaintance with parliamentary law and the usages of the House, very necessary for that office. His legislative experience and thorough conservatism will strongly commend him to his associates for that office.

GASTON.

Outrages in the East.

The Newbern Commercial makes the following remarks upon our inquiries the other day in reference to the outrages reported in the Eastern counties:

"We do not exchange with the Standard, and never read that sheet.

All the information we can afford the Sentinel has been given from time to time through our columns. The alleged "bands of desperadoes," we believe to be exaggerations in the main. That there is some kind of a gang infesting this and neighboring counties, seems somewhat true; but our information leads to the belief that it is not composed of citizens, as such, nor of North Carolinians wholly. It seems to be nothing more than a gang of horse thieves and robbers generally, for whose acts the people of the counties in which they operate are in no way responsible. The people suffer from their depredations, and that is all the connection they have with them.

Whether the civil authorities have done all in their power to break up this gang, is more than we know; but it is next to a certainty that in the present impoverished condition of the people, the authorities are unable to collect taxes enough to support a mounted county police—the only force at all adequate to the work.

The stories of the acts of this gang have been greatly exaggerated and some of them have been purely imaginary. That the Standard uses these exaggerations and false statements to blacken the character of the people of North Carolina, is nothing more than might be expected; though it had nothing to say a few weeks ago, when bands of lawless and desperate negroes were abroad, in this section, murdering, burning and pillaging. If there be gangs abroad now, other than the one we are alluding to, it will be found to consist of men who had to resort to the organization of "Regulators" in self-defence and to intimidate and keep down negro desperadoes.

As before stated, however, we do not believe in the existence of any such organization.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND AMUSEMENTS.—We take the following extract from the Pastoral letter of the Second Plenary Council of the Roman Catholic Church, which has recently been published:

"In this connection we consider it to be our duty to warn our people against those amusements which may easily become to them an occasion of sin, and especially against those fashionable dances, which, as at present carried on, are revolting to every feeling of delicacy and propriety, and are fraught with the greatest danger to morals. We would also warn them most solemnly against the great abuses which have sprung up in the matter of fairs, excursions and pic-nics, in which as too often conducted, the name of charity is made to cover up a multitude of sins. We forbid all Catholics having anything to do with them, except when managed in accordance with the regulations of the Ordinary, and under the immediate supervision of their respective pastors."

DOWN AT THE HEEL.—The business of Lynn is said to be very dull. Half the laborers engaged in shoemaking are out of employment, and many are going to their homes in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine, and even Canada. Several thousand have left the city.

(From the National Intelligencer.)

Speech of Hon. Reverdy Johnson.

In reading the able speech of Senator Johnson, which we published on Saturday, we felt but one regret, and that was that it was not delivered at an earlier day, so as to reach the ear of the public before the late elections. Perhaps, however, it is better as it is; its judicial utterances might have been unheeded in the midst of a political campaign, where the principal object was to excite the passions of the people, but they will now be calmly considered, and pave the way for a wiser application of the great principles which underlie our Government to the political status of the country.

Mr. Johnson conclusively establishes the position that secession and exclusion are identical. He shows that in the Convention which framed the Constitution the power to coerce a recusant State was expressly excluded from the Constitution, which, to obviate the evils of the old Confederation, was made to deal with individuals, and not States, Mr. Madison declaring that such a provision looked more "like a declaration of war than an infliction of punishment, and would probably be considered by the party attacked as a dissolution of all previous compacts." There is no power in the Government to destroy itself, and as its life is bound up in that of the States, to tolerate secession or exclusion is alike suicidal. But though some plausability might attach to the former by reason of the heresy of State sovereignty and the implication contained in the formation of the Government, no man, whether wise or foolish, ever avowed the latter absurdity until recently.

Indeed, he traces its history from the announcement by Senator Sumner of the doctrine of State suicide in February, 1862, when it was denounced by Senators Fessenden and Dixon, and failed to get any support. He recalls the language of the Chicago Convention, which declared that the maintenance inviolate of the States is essential to the preservation of the Government, and the language of the famous resolution of Congress in July, 1861, which declared that the war is waged not "for conquest," but "to preserve the Union with all the dignity, rights, and equality of the several States unimpaired."

That resolution was a public committal of this nation, not only to the Southern people, whom we wished to conciliate by it, but to contemporaneous nations and to posterity, not to interfere with the constitutional rights or the dignity or equality of the States we sought to win back to their allegiance. We cannot falsify it without dishonor.

But if secession is State suicide, he very pertinently inquires how it is that Mr. Johnson was permitted to retain his seat in the Senate, together with the Virginia Senators, after the secession of their respective States, and how it comes that West Virginia was created a State by the co-ordinate action of the Old Dominion. He deduces from this theory of conquered provinces the absolute dominion of Congress over the territory and the right to abrogate State laws, and increase or multiply the number of States, to grant letters of nobility, or to indulge in any extra constitutional legislation that would disregard the rights of the people of this section. He administers a scathing rebuke to those gentlemen who would apply the laws of war to the South, in defiance of the terms of surrender, and contrasts their conduct with the magnanimous, generous utterances of the fighting men at Cleveland. He shows the impossibility of ruling the South by force, and recalls the memorable language of Bonaparte, that an insurrection "is an event of uniform occurrence in a conquered country."

But the invulnerable and to our mind irresistible portion of this speech is the argument against the Radical theory of State suicide derived from the joint action of the three great departments of the Government:

1. Congress recognizes the seceding States as States by the resolution of July 22, 1861.

2. By the act assigning them their quota of representatives.

3. By the assent given, as required by the Constitution, to the division of Virginia; and in this connection he recalls the fact that opinions affirming the validity and constitutionality of this act were given by all of Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet, including Chief Justice Chase.

4. By the act apportioning taxation amongst the States, and another extending the time of payment in the South.

5. By the provision for the salaries of judges, marshals, district attorneys, and other officers.

6. By the readjustment at the last session of the judicial circuits.

Again, the judicial department is committed to their recognition as States—

1. By including them in their distribution of the judicial circuits made during the insurrection.

2. By hearing and deciding causes on appeal to a writ of error from the courts of such States.

The President is committed to it by his approval of the various acts of Congress referred to. 2. By the appointment of officials for these States, and the Senate by confirming the appointments and by admitting the Senators from Virginia.

Congress prudently deals with the Southern States as Territories, and their condition is to be altered by concurrent resolve, a project which is both unconstitutional, inexpedient and mischievous. The President's policy would admit them at once, thereby restoring harmony and stability, and preparing the South to develop its exhaustless resources, which even under a system of slave labor, contrast most favorably with New England, as he shows by a number of facts drawn from the late census, but which under the stimulus of free labor, will carry it forward on a career of unexampled prosperity.

He indignantly disposes of the charge that the South is not to be trusted, by reminding us of the reputation it has always borne, of the eulogium of Edward Everett, in 1858; of the contributions of the Carolinas, in Revolutionary times, to the citizens of Boston, and of our willingness to receive them and their territory on their own terms, if they were under a foreign protectorate, from which we would persuade them.

The allegation that it is the province of Congress to admit or exclude the South is thoroughly discussed. The legislative powers of Congress are not illimitable. They are expressly defined. The article of the Constitution creating them speaks of "the legislative powers herein granted"—not all legislative powers. If restoration is a legislative power, it is not conferred on Congress, either in terms or by implication. But the recognition of belligerent rights is with the Executive when the parties to those rights are engaged in a civil war in a foreign State; and why not in a civil war here? But the President prohibited intercourse, and announced the suspension of relations, in pursuance of an act of Congress which authorizes him also to proclaim their resumption, so that even if Congress had such legislative power it invested the President with it. Exclusion from their rights will only impair the Union, not restore the South to it. The relative merit of conciliation and of force is shown in Scotland and in Ireland.

Of what is said about Maryland we shall have more to say hereafter. But the force of this masterly argument against the vagaries of Radicalism cannot be destroyed by abuse of President Johnson. It cannot be evaded by frantic appeals to the passions of a people not yet recovered from the fiery ordeal of war, nor by vehement denunciations of the temper and bearing of men who, though vanquished on the battle field, yet have rights they will not tamely see trampled in the dust, nor by malignant misrepresentations of those who, putting the claims of constitutional liberty above the feelings of the hour, insist that the follies of the past, bitterly atoned for, shall be forgotten, and that the obligations imposed by the Federal Constitution shall ever be accompanied by their inalienable privileges.

The New York World thinks that the Radicals have already done their worst against the South. It says:

"As regards the South, they have already gone to the length of their tether. After passing over the veto of the President, their Civil Rights bill, they could proceed no farther except by proposing amendments to the Constitution. But amendments being nullities till ratified by three-fourths of the States, the resistance of the South is more effective in respect to them, than the Presidential veto is in respect to ordinary laws. The veto can be overcome by two-thirds of both Houses, but the negative of thirteen States (Kentucky, Maryland, and Delaware make up the thirteen) on a proposed amendment, can in no way be overcome till the number of States reaches fifty-two,—a larger number than we are likely to have.

The South, then, has nothing worse to fear, as a consequence of the late elections, than a protracted exclusion from Congress. Negro suffrage cannot be forced on them except by an amendment to the Constitution, which they can checkmate. New penalties for treason are equally impossible, by the prohibition to pass ex post facto laws. The old penalties have been remitted by the President's proclamation of amnesty and his individual pardons. The State governments which have been formed in the South cannot be upset, because Congress never comes in contact with them except in judging of their competency to furnish credentials to members of that body. Congress having already done its utmost against the South, that section has nothing to fear in consequence of these elections beyond what it already suffers.

The telegraph informs us that two negroes have been elected to the Legislature in Massachusetts. This is certainly a new idea in this country. But there is no disputing about tastes. If the people of Massachusetts desire to be thus represented we imagine no one else will have any objection. If any constituency prefers colored representatives there can be no reason why they should not be allowed to satisfy themselves.

When it is considered how very peculiar the people of Massachusetts have become in their politics, perhaps the existing majority of them will be as fitly represented by negro legislators as by any others.

The standard of talent in the public men of the Bay State has been steadily running down for the last fifteen or twenty years. When they used to be represented by such men as John Quincy Adams, Daniel Webster, Caleb Cushing, and Edward Everett, the State enjoyed a large intellectual prestige. But of late years their intellectual contributions in the public characters they have presented to the country have been, with few exceptions, of a very ordinary standard.

The very meagre talent they have of late years commanded in public life has one advantage—that in electing negroes to represent them, they do not run much hazard of losing anything by the change. The mania of Massachusetts for the negro is interesting as a psycological fact. It is curious to know how much further they can carry it. As they are so much infatuated with their black idol, it would be well for them to obtain a larger infusion of this element. Immigration of the black race ought to be encouraged there. We have no doubt some of the Southern States, where the black population is in excess of the whites, would very gladly spare a portion of their colored population to accommodate Massachusetts. This is a point upon which they might happily find themselves in accord with their Southern brethren.—National Intelligencer.

A FAST TOWN.—Gen. McMackin, the founder of Pontotoc, Mississippi, gives the following information about the first days of that place: "In one month after I laid off the town, I sold $80,000 worth of lots. In two months I put up a hotel—good log houses, with brick chimneys, to accommodate four hundred persons with board and lodging; stable room and lots to accommodate four hundred horses. In three months after the laying off of the town, there were forty-five stores and thirty-three groceries. Property changed hands to the amount of $300,000 per day for four years."

Mr. Robert Ferguson, an Englishman, who has written a book called "America During and After the War," notes some of the peculiar ways of advertising which have been adopted in this country. Thus he saw at St. Louis the walls placarded in very large letters with the words, "As pure as a soul without sin." Drawing near with a natural curiosity to know what that could be which laid claim to such a title, he read in very small letters, "The unfermented bread."

No war-book which has yet appeared equals this book in fidelity to truth and in graphic and picturesque description. Nowhere else can the important information in this volume be obtained.

It ought to be in the hands of every one who desires to know how the war was really carried on.

It is a handsome 12mo. volume of 288 pages, elegantly printed, and well bound, and sent by mail, pre paid, for $1.50.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

Near Warrenton, N. C.

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is in one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

TERMS—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required, and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—M. Grausman offers an attractive list of Goods in his line, at his fashionable Tailoring establishment on Fayetteville Street. Mr. G. is doing a good business and is prepared to suit all classes of customers.

We ask special attention to Dr. Deems' advertisement of that new and interesting book, "The Last Ninety Days of the War," written by that accomplished North Carolina lady, Mrs. Cornelia Phillips Spencer, of Chapel Hill. It is a most reliable and truthful contribution to the history of the war.

Our merchants are invited to the card of Messrs. Coulter & Co., wholesale dealers in Provisions in Baltimore. It is a capital house.

Persons desiring to rent Cotton farms will do well to apply at once to J. W. B. Watson, Esq., who offers three of his valuable farms for rent.

Mrs. Jeffries has rented and is now prepared to accommodate transient or regular boarders at the excellent Hotel lately kept by Geo. T. Cooke, Esq.

It will be seen that application will be made to the next Legislature for a charter for Pasquotank Lodge, No. 103.

THE METEORIC SHOWER.—Our local was in error about the shooting Stars on yesterday.—Not one was seen last night, that we wot of, though there were a number of watchers. The Richmond Examiner says the shower may be looked for to-night between midnight and sunrise. Not knowing, we cannot say certainly.

BROKE JAIL.—Four negroes confined in the County Jail, broke out on yesterday, but three of them were caught before getting far. One, we learn, is still at large.

RELIGIOUS NOTICE.—Rev. Bishop Pierce will preach at the Methodist Church, in this city, on Friday night next, the 16th. at 7 o'clock.

FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE.—We are requested to announce that the association, "the Friends of Temperance," will hold a regular meeting to-night at their Hall.

GRAND TABLEAUX.—The ladies in the neighborhood of Holland's Church, in Wake County, will give a Tableaux at said Church on Wednesday (to-morrow) evening next, in aid of the funds of the Memorial Association of this City. The programme is an interesting one and the entertainment and its objects will call out a large crowd.

ARRIVALS AT THE EXCHANGE HOTEL, Nov. 11th and 12th, 1866.—J R Green, Master Lucius Green, Durhams; W S Nelsol, Ala.; J Roberts, Miss.; Lieut. W W Wallace, N Y.; John P Amidon, Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. Morris, Miss. Morris, J T Morris, N Y.; W G Nelms, Miss.; John G. Justice, J B Stafford, N C.; P J Powell, Saratoga Co. N Y.; J McClair, Smithfield, N C.; A A Searr's, Morrisville; N C.; W C Doub, Wake Co. N C.; C P Cardoza, Norfolk; B C Phillips, Greensborough, N C.; J R E Mayer, Chester, S C.; W H Hillar, Petersburg, Va.

ANSON COUNTY.—A friend informs us that the crops in Anson the present year, have been very short. It is said that the cotton crop will probably yield to the county only about $300,000 at present prices. The corn crop is so short in that section of the State, that many persons speak of removing.

GONE.—Our friend, the editor of the Goldsboro' News, is off from his post. We see our Newbern cotemporaries also take a jaunt ever and anon, and so do our Wilmington confreres. Well, we are glad they are able to do it. We poor Metropolitan editors have to stay by the stuff. Go it while you are young.

OLD FRANK.—The Goldsboro' News says that Frank Johnson's Band arrived in that place a few days ago. We thought old Frank had left these mortal shores.

The ladies of Tarboro are giving a series of entertainments in aid of the Stonewall Cemetery.

Our Newbern and Wilmington cotemporaries continue to speak of robberies in those cities. About now, we seldom have cause to record anything of the kind.

THE EYE AND EAR.—We refer our readers to the advertisement of Dr. Gardner, Oculist and Aurist, (formerly of London,) now of New York, who will be at the EXCHANGE HOTEL, on Saturday, Nov. 24th., and remain until Thursday, the 29th. After that time, he will visit Raleigh monthly, of which due notice will be given.—The Dr. comes highly recommended by the press of the different cities he has visited. Those who require medical or surgical aid for defective sight or hearing should avail themselves of the opportunity now offered for obtaining relief, by consulting Dr. Gardner.

THE REV. MR. WILLIAMS.—We have heretofore published an account of the arrest, and committal of the Rev. George T. Williams, an Episcopal Clergyman of the Diocese of Virginia, charged with picking the pocket of a lady, in a street car in New York. A gentleman in this city, well acquainted with the accused, informs us that he was formerly a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, but afterwards connected himself with the denomination of which he is at present a member. It is also said that he has for a number of years, at various times, been subject to temporary fits of mental abberration, and it is believed by his friends that he must have been so affected, when he committed the act (if he did it at all) of which he stands accused. His character heretofore has always been irreproachable, both as a man of deep piety and of sterling honesty, and he was the last person in the country who would have been thought capable of committing a theft. His friends yet hope he will be able to establish his perfect innocence, and to maintain his hitherto untarnished reputation.—Lynchburg News.

BREACH OF PROMISE.—One Miss Mary L. Scheel, of San Francisco, has sued General H. M. Naglee, late of the Federal army, for breach of promise of marriage, and claims the modest sum of $100,000, with which to put up her damaged and too susceptible affections. In his answer, the son of Mars mildly inserts his objections to paying this sum by denying that he ever promised to marry her, and that, since the alleged promise was given, he has discovered that the lady is of a notoriously profligate character, and that her conduct with several parties in San Francisco lately has been such as to fully relieve him from any legal obligation such as the alleged promise might have imposed on him.

THE REPORTED ABDICTION OF MAXIMILIAN.—The New York Commercial says:

"The statement published by Mr. Romero, as 'official', of the abdication of Maximilian, is entirely untounded. The dispatch sent Mr. Saulmer, acting as agent of the United States at Vera Cruz, originated in a visit paid by the Emperor to Orizaba. Our information is from an eye witness of the condition of things in Mexico, just arrived here by the steamer Manhattan."

For some time past, workmen have been engaged in boring an artesian well at the Union Stock Yard in Chicago. Thursday, at the depth of 1,050 feet, they struck a vein of pure water, which is flowing at the rate of three hundred and sixty barrels a day. The success of the enterprise caused much excitement, and vastly pleased those who had commenced and carried the undertaking to completion.

John C. Braine of the late Confederate navy, was arraigned on Thursday afternoon before the United States Circuit Court in New York, on the charge of murder and piracy on the high seas, found against him in the indictment, with the particulars of which the public are familiar. In reply to the usual question Braine pleaded not guilty. He was remanded to jail. The trial will take place before Judge Benedict on the 16th instant.

TO BE CONTESTED.—The Boston Commercial is informed that the Radicals of Charlestown are going to contest Walker's (colored) seat to the Legislature on the ground that he was elected by Democratic votes.

General Jordan, recently the editor of the Memphis Appeal, is engaged with Colonel Pryor in arranging and preparing a life of General N. B. Forrest, which will be ready for publication in a couple of months.

Special Notices.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhoea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The Louisville Journal says: "The testimonials which Dr. Gardner presents to the public could never have been obtained, except by the display of great skill and learning in his profession. One thing especially commendable in the Doctor's practice is, that he will not attempt an incurable disease for the sake of a fee, but frankly tells the patient whether he can be cured or not. We cheerfully recommend Dr. Gardner to the attention of all our friends who may be suffering from diseases of the eye or ear.

The Richmond Times says: We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gardner is the most scientific and successful eye and ear Surgeon in this country.

"We feel justified in recommending Doctor Gardner to those suffering from diseases of the eye and ear."—Richmond Whig.

"We can safely and cordially recommend Dr. Gardner, who will fulfill all he undertakes to perform."—Baltimore Clipper.

The New Orleans True Delta says: "We can safely recommend Dr. Gardner as a successful operator on the eye and ear. He will not undertake to treat a case unless a cure can be effected.

The Wheeling Register says: "Dr. Gardner is one of the most successful Oculists and Aurists in the country. We advise those suffering from the diseases of the eye and ear to consult him."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other expectorant is too patent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

We can only assure the public, that its quality is carefully kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all that it has ever done.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of our remedies, but space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our American Almanac in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the complaints they cure.

Those who require an alterative medicine to purify the blood will find AYER'S COMP. EXT. SARSAPARILLA the remedy to use. Try it once, and you will know its value.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine!

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
Notary Public,
L. S. Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

Extract from Various Letters:

"I had no appetite; Maggiel's Pills gave me a hearty one."

"Your Pills are marvelous."

"I send for another box, and keep them in the house."

"Dr. Maggiel has cured my headache that was chronic."

"I gave half of one of your pills to my babe for cholera morbus. The dear little thing got well in a day."

"My nausea of a morning is now cured."

"Your box of Maggiel's Salve cured me of noises in the head. I rubbed some of your Salve behind my ears and the noise left."

"Send me two boxes; I want one for a poor family."

"I enclose a dollar; your price is twenty-five cents, but the medicine to me is worth a dollar."

"Send me five boxes of your pills."

"Let me have three boxes of your Salve by return mail."

I have over 200 such Testimonials

As this, but want of space compels me to conclude

VALUABLE PLANTATION FOR SALE!

ON THE SECOND THURSDAY IN DECEMBER, that being the 13th day of the month, I will sell to the highest bidder, upon the premises, that desirable lately owned, and resided upon, by Miss Elizabeth Hinton, dec'd.

The tract is situated on Neuse River, six miles East of Raleigh, on the Tarboro' Road, adjoining the lands of David Hinton. It contains from of land,—from THREE TO FOUR HUNDRED of which are cleared. About 100 acres are fine low grounds, not liable to over-flow. This is considered one of the best Cotton Plantations in the County, and the bottom land will always produce enough Corn to sustain it.

THE IMPROVEMENTS

consist of a handsome Dwelling House, containing seven rooms, located on a commanding site. There are three frame houses also on the premises, with two rooms each, and all necessary out-houses, cabins, barns, gin house, carriage house, &c.

As this land will be sold on the liberal credit of only one-third cash, the balance payable in one, two and three years, a rare opportunity is afforded to parties wishing to purchase a first-class farm.

W. B. MILLER,

FARMS FOR RENT.

I HAVE THREE FARMS, IN CLOSE CONTIGUITY, in the County of Beaufort, which I offer to rent for the ensuing year.

These Farms are situated between the towns of Washington and Newbern, ten miles from the former and twenty from the latter place. The locality is a healthy one. I prefer to rent all together; failing in this, I will rent separately.

To my son, who is now on these farms, and to Maj. Bowman, residing upon the premises, I refer for full information. Persons desiring to rent will make their wishes known to me at this place.

W. H. CROW,

General Agent,

For the State of North Carolina, Petersburg, Va., and surrounding Counties,

IN addition to the loss and prompt payment of Justus Kinsey's policy for $5,000, is now added another loss, by the death of J. E. Weeks, of Elizabeth City, N. C. for $5,000, and again promptly settled by the Ætna.

By this practical illustration of the advantages of Life Insurance, it is commended to the confidence and support of every one desirous of providing for surviving loved ones.

As an investment merely, a Life Insurance Policy is as safe an investment of funds as can be made. The principal, generally, is not only many times in excess of the amount paid, but in a sound company it has no rival for security, and no species of Government bonds are a more desirable investment.
